Dear Colleagues,

On behalf of the Field Center for Children’s Policy, Practice & Research’s multidisciplinary team, I am pleased to present our 2017 conference, One Child, Many Hands: A Multidisciplinary Conference on Child Welfare. We look forward to you joining us at the University of Pennsylvania’s beautiful and historic Penn Law School for three days of outstanding child welfare programming, including presentations you will not see anywhere else.

We are delighted to have the Honorable Anne Holton, recently off the campaign trail with her husband, Senator Tim Kaine, deliver this year’s Opening Keynote Address. A long-time advocate for children and families, particularly foster youth, Anne brings the unique perspective of her background as a Juvenile Court Judge, Secretary of Education, First Lady of Virginia, and agent of change for children and youth in the child welfare system.

Social justice advocate and dean of the University of Pennsylvania’s School of Social Policy & Practice, Dean John L. Jackson, Jr., will deliver the Field Center Keynote Address. The innovative Director of Baltimore’s Department of Social Services, Molly McGrath Tierney, will deliver the Closing Keynote Address, with her unique perspective on system reform.

Our conference is noted for its Plenary Panels that each address a compelling and cutting-edge topic, and this year is no exception. Hear from the nation’s leading experts on:

- The Great Unknown: Child Welfare in the Trump Administration
- Reimagining a Broken System: Thinking Outside the Foster Care Box
- Transforming #ChildWelfare Through Innovative Applications of Technology, and
- Beyond Protecting Children: Keeping Caseworkers and CPS Agencies Safe

With 36 different workshops, carefully selected to represent the very best work in the field, this year’s conference offers great opportunities for learning, networking, and being at the forefront of new and emerging work.

The Field Center’s interdisciplinary team looks forward to welcoming you to Philly!

Sincerely,

Debra Schilling Wolfe
Executive Director
Field Center for Children’s Policy, Practice & Research

OPENING KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ANNE HOLTON

Anne Holton has devoted her career to serving as an advocate for families and children. She graduated magna cum laude from Princeton University’s Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, subsequently earning her J.D. from Harvard Law School, where she met her future husband, Tim Kaine.

Following graduation from law school, Ms. Holton served as a law clerk for U.S. District Court Judge Robert R. Merhige, Jr., in Richmond, Virginia. From 1985 to 1998, she worked as an attorney for the Central Virginia Legal Aid Society. From 1998 to 2005, she served as a Judge on the Juvenile and Domestic Relations District Court for the City of Richmond. Ms. Holton was chief judge of the court from 2000 to 2003. She resigned from the bench following her husband’s election as Governor in December 2005.

As First Lady, she launched her signature initiative, “For Keeps: Families for all Virginia Teens,” which helped Virginia find and strengthen permanent families particularly for older children in foster care or at risk of entering care. This work led Virginia to efforts that resulted in a dramatic increase in successfully placing and/or keeping at-risk children in permanent families.

In 2013, Ms. Holton served as director of the Great Expectations program, an initiative that helped young people exiting foster care pursue higher education through the Virginia Community College System. From 2014 – 2016, she served as Secretary of Education for the Commonwealth of Virginia. In July 2016, she resigned from the position when her husband, Tim Kaine, was asked to be Hillary Clinton’s running mate. Ms. Holton spent the summer and fall of 2016 traveling the country in support of the Clinton-Kaine campaign.

Ms. Holton has received many awards and honors for her work, including the YWCA of Richmond’s “Outstanding Woman of the Year in Law” in 2006 and the Annie E. Casey Foundation Families for Life’s “Award of Distinction” in 2008.

WELCOME ADDRESS

CYNTHIA FIGUEROA

Cynthia Figueroa, Commissioner of the Philadelphia Department of Human Services (DHS), has devoted her career to improving the lives of vulnerable children and families. DHS is charged with protecting children from abuse, neglect and delinquency and is the largest child welfare agency in Pennsylvania.

Prior to her appointment as Commissioner, Ms. Figueroa served as President and CEO of Congreso de Latinos Unidos. From 2008 – 2011, she was Deputy Commissioner for DHS and responsible for the oversight of what was then known as the Division of Community Based Prevention Services. Earlier, Ms. Figueroa served as Executive Director of Women Against Abuse. The recipient of an Eisenhower Fellowship, Ms. Figueroa brings international leadership and recognition to DHS. She has also received the University of Pennsylvania Outstanding Leadership Award, the National Football League/Philadelphia Eagles Hispanic Heritage Leadership Award, and the Peter B. Goldberg Aramark Building Community Executive Leadership Award. Ms. Figueroa was named one of 40 under 40 by the Philadelphia Business Journal.
Molly Tierney is the Director for the Baltimore City Department of Social Services where she manages the City’s child welfare and public assistance programs. Over the past eight years, Ms. Tierney championed a reform effort that dramatically improved the impact of services to vulnerable citizens of Baltimore, including reducing the number of children in foster care by 69%. She created a business model for the agency that is now considered a national model for modern social services.

Ms. Tierney joined the Department after 20 years in the field of social services including managing human services reform in Chicago and in Washington DC. She holds a masters degree from Loyola University and is a fellow with the Annie E. Casey Foundation. She lives in Baltimore with her family.

John L. Jackson, Jr., is Dean of the School of Social Policy & Practice and Richard Perry University Professor at the University of Pennsylvania. He received his BA in Communication (Radio/TV/Film) from Howard University and his PhD in Anthropology from Columbia University. Dean Jackson spent three years as a junior fellow at the Harvard University Society of Fellows, and four years teaching in Duke University’s Department of Cultural Anthropology and Center for Documentary Studies. He is the author of Thin Description: Ethnography and the African Hebrew Israelites of Jerusalem (Harvard University Press, 2013); Racial Paranoia: The Unintended Consequences of Political Correctness (Basic, 2008); Real Black: Adventures in Racial Sincerity (University of Chicago Press, 2005); Harlemworld: Doing Race and Class in Contemporary Black America (University of Chicago Press, 2001); and Impolite Conversations, co-written with Cora Daniels (Atria/Simon & Schuster, 2014).

As a filmmaker, Dean Jackson has produced a feature-length fiction film, documentaries, and film-shorts that have screened at film festivals internationally. Before becoming Dean, he has served as Senior Advisor to the Provost on Diversity and Associate Dean of Administration in the Annenberg School for Communication at the University of Pennsylvania.
Richard Gelles Closing Keynote Address

Cindy W. Christian, MD

Cindy W. Christian, MD holds the Anthony A. Latini Endowed Chair in the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect at the Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia. She is a Professor of Pediatrics and Associate Dean for Admissions at the Perelman School of Medicine at The University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Christian is a Faculty Director with Penn’s Field Center for Children’s Policy, Practice & Research. She completed her pediatric residency and child abuse pediatrics fellowship at The Children’s Hospital of Philadelphia, where she has spent her career. Dr. Christian devotes much of her clinical and academic work to the care of abused children. She is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics’ section on Child Abuse and Neglect, and served as the former Chair of the Academy’s Committee on Child Abuse and Neglect. Dr. Christian is a founding member of the Ray E. Helfer Society, and is a member of a number of other local and national organizations devoted to the care of abused and neglected children. In 2007, Dr. Christian was named Pennsylvania Pediatrician of the Year by the PA Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics. In 2010, Dr. Christian was appointed as the first medical director for the Philadelphia Department of Human Services, leading the development of policies and strategies to improve the health of Philadelphia’s dependent children, serving in this role for 5 years. In 2012, she was appointed by former Governor Corbett to the Pennsylvania Task Force on Child Protection and was instrumental in critical reform to Pennsylvania’s child abuse laws, policy and practice in the wake of the Sandusky case. Dr. Christian is widely published in medical journals on the subjects of child abuse and abusive head trauma, and is a sought-after speaker at national and international meetings and conferences.

PROGRAM GUIDE
Home of great sports, great food, and great culture! We hope that during your stay, you will explore our exciting, vibrant city. In addition to being a vital part of our nation’s history, Philadelphia also features a wealth of museums and galleries, restaurants from the world’s top chefs, championship sports teams, and a lively cultural scene.

The City of Brotherly Love is the birthplace of America. Philadelphia’s Old City District is home to landmarks such as the Liberty Bell (Market Street between 5th and 6th Streets), the Betsy Ross House (Arch Street between 2nd and 3rd), and Independence Hall (Chestnut Street between 5th and 6th). The National Constitution Center on Independence Mall features interactive and multi-media exhibits honoring and explaining the U.S. Constitution. For a guided tour, the Constitutional Walking Tour of Philadelphia explores the city with you and features more than 20 historic sites.

WELCOME TO PHILADELPHIA!

THURSDAY EVENING SPECIAL EVENT

Guided Tour of the Infamous Eastern State Penitentiary and Dinner at Rembrandt’s Restaurant

$35 Includes Dinner, Guided Tour, and Round Trip Transportation

Shuttle departs from conference site at 5:30 PM

Eastern State Penitentiary, once the most famous and expensive prison in the world, was abandoned in 1971 after 142 years in use, and has since been named a National Historic Landmark, as well as one of the most popular sites in Philadelphia. Considered a “must see” by visitors, a guided tour highlights the building’s grand architecture and includes history and views of cell blocks that once held many of America’s most notorious criminals, including bank robber “Slick Willie” Sutton and Al Capone. Visitors are encouraged to bring a camera to capture all aspects of this impressive landmark.

Immediately following, enjoy a wonderful dinner with colleagues at Rembrandt’s, a neighborhood restaurant established in 1907 with roots deep in the Prohibition era. Along with great food, the stained glass windows, handmade doors and European fixtures add character to the venue.

Complimentary round trip shuttle provided from Penn Law School to Eastern State Penitentiary/Rembrandt's Restaurant.

WEDNESDAY EVENING EVENT

Philadelphia Museum of Art

Discover works of art at one of the largest and most renowned museums in the country. Find beauty, enchantment, and the unexpected among artistic and architectural achievements from the United States, Asia, Europe, and Latin America.

Enjoy everything the Museum has to offer—at your own pace and price. The museum features world class exhibits and the famous Rocky steps—race your way to the top for a gorgeous view of the city.

2600 Benjamin Franklin Parkway Philadelphia, PA 19130

Admission is Pay What You Wish Wednesday evenings. Transportation is on your own.

Please visit philamuseum.org for more information

“Best Chef Mid-Atlantic” award and a Food Network Iron Chef, has opened nine restaurants in Philadelphia alone. Other notable award winners include Michael Solomonov, Georges Perrier, and Susanna Foo. Listed as one of the top ten Hottest Food Cities by Zagat, Philadelphia is a food lover’s mecca.

Welcome from the Field Center!

The Field Center, an interdisciplinary collaboration of the University of Pennsylvania's Schools of Social Policy & Practice, Law, Medicine and Nursing, and the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia, strives to impart critical change in the child welfare system through policy and practice reform, translational research, and advocacy and education. The only center of its kind in the nation, our work on local, state and national levels has helped address both current challenges and emerging issues facing the child welfare field.

Our faculty experts, experienced staff, and affiliated fellows have addressed issues through a multi-systemic lens, including reforming child abuse laws, identifying and promoting evidence-based practice, improving outcomes for youth in the foster care system, convening workgroups and consortiums to collaboratively and creatively address issues, and cultivating access to effective and culturally relevant services across child-serving systems.

To learn more about the Field Center and our work and trainings, please visit our “virtual center” at www.fieldcenteratpenn.org.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS

Continuing education credits are available in the following disciplines. If you would like to receive Continuing Education Credits, please indicate the appropriate discipline on the registration form. Only one certificate will be processed per participant.

Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists, and Professionals Counselors
Participants who attend the entire conference are eligible to receive 18 Continuing Education Units (CEUs) through the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Policy & Practice. One Child, Many Hands is unable to offer CEU credit for partial attendance. There are no exceptions.

The University of Pennsylvania School of Social Policy & Practice is a pre-approved provider of continuing education credits for Pennsylvania licensed Social Workers, Marriage and Family Therapists, and Professional Counselors. Those from states other than Pennsylvania should contact their licensing board to determine whether CEUs granted by the University of Pennsylvania School of Social Policy & Practice are accepted for licensure renewal.

Attorneys
One Child, Many Hands: A Multidisciplinary Conference on Child Welfare has been approved for a total of 11.5 substantive law CLE credits for Pennsylvania attorneys. CLE credits may be available in other jurisdictions as well. Attendees seeking CLE credits should bring separate payment in the amount of $460 for the full conference ($115 public interest/non-profit attorneys). To receive CLE credit, attorneys must register for and attend approved workshops indicated by . Payment for CLE credits cannot be made in advance but is payable at the conference via check to the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania.
